

Immunization Program Launches New Web Site

The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services' Bureau of Immunization Assessment and Assurance recently unveiled a new web site tailored to parents, schools, child care facilities, health care professionals and other consumers. The new site, www.health.mo.gov/immunizations, brings together the best in state and federal resources on immunizations to provide consumers with easy-to-navigate, easy-to-understand information.

The site offers information about vaccine safety and effectiveness; immunization recommendations for children, adolescents, adults and health care workers; immunizations required for school and child care attendance; diseases that immunizations prevent; and travel vaccines.

It also provides details on the Vaccines for Children program including eligibility, forms, communication, a locator tool to connect parents with program providers and Missouri's immunization registry, ShowMeVax.

Missouri's immunization program web site makes it easy to find tools and resources such as immunization schedules, materials for schools and child care, and information on protecting against influenza available to order for direct shipment to the consumer's location at no cost.

Bookmark the new site, www.health.mo.gov/immunizations, today!

